The participant declares, throughout the participation at all offers or classes of AYRF, that there are no health or medical risks. If the state of health will change after the conclusion of a contract as far as the participation would be limited or any health risks could occur, AYRF will be informed immediately.

Utilization of immovable property and participation at any offers or classes of AYRF is always on own risk. AYRF only taking over responsibility or liability for participant's injuries or damages in case of gross carelessness or deliberate intention.

AYRF takes no responsibility at all for objects of value brought to AYRF. The participants are prompted herewith to not bring objects of value. If objects of value are brought with, please keep them close by you.

3. Personal data

All members and participants of AYRF are herewith informed about the collection and electronic savings of their personal datas for processing purposes. The regulations of the federal data protection act are complied. The members and participants agree to the utilization of their personal datas for these purposes.

All contract holders will inform AYRF immediately about significant changes in their personal datas as far as the changes relate to the contract with AYRF, especially addresses and bank details, if payment made by direct payment.

4. Membership/Fees

The memberships of AYRF have a one (1) month period of notice. The cancellation note has to be in written form and be send in to the end of the month; from then on the contract will last only for one (1) more month. The period of notice therefore is one (1) month to the end of every month. AYRF is entitled to cancel the membership to the end of every month without any reasons.

The membership fee is to be paid in advance in the beginning of every month through direct payment. The members accept a direct debit authorization with the signment of the contract. If the direct payment is refused by the members bank, AYRF is entitled to impose EUR 10,00 as an expense allowance.

Memberships are not assignable. Memberships includes the participation at regular classes (class schedule), but htey do not include the participation at workshops or other offers. AYRF is entitled to change the current fee. The alterations in prices will be announced either on the website, on the facebook site and/or in a newsletter.

If the value added tax (VAT), which is included in every fee, is changed by law, AYRF is entitled to change the fees without a notification in advance.

5. Changes in offers of AYRF/Opening hours

AYRF is entitled to change the offer of classes, the class schedule, the opening hours and the location where the classes taking place.

AYRF is entitled to set a maximum of participants in classes, if this is needed to ensure the proper course of classes.

In case of illness, vacation or other hindrances of teachers of AYRF, AYRF will try to organize a substitute. In some cases classes can be cancelled. In these cases members are not allowed to reduce the monthly fee. Closing times based on vacations, renovations as well on special opening hours based on national holidays will be announced in time and in advanced. In these cases members are not allowed to reduce the monthly fee, either.

6. Principle of solidarity

Everyone should have the possibility to practice Ashtanga Vinyasa Yoga in a group and under guidance of a teacher. AYRF does not exclude students, who are in financially uncomfortable situations, from taking part at my classes. Anyone, who is not able to pay the full monthly contribution because of financial reason, is more than welcome negotiate a suitable monthly contribution until the full amount can be paid.

Money shouldn't be the reason for someone to not being able to join Ashtanga Vinyasa Yoga classes respectively taking part at classes by AYRF. The principle of solidarity applies to my workshops as well.

Of course AYRF is limited by financial possibilities. Everyone is welcome to support the principle of solidarity at AYRF: Voluntarily, members can raise their monthly contribution by 5,00-10,00 Euros (10-Card-Owners: 10,00 - 20,00 Euros extra).

7. Miscellaneous

Unwritten agreements are not made. Changes and addenda of these GTC and all membership contracts must be in written form.

Place of jurisdiction is Frankfurt am Main.

If one or more regulations of these GTC or of memberships contracts will become ineffective, the other regulations will stay unaffected.
